Subject: Re: NHTSA investigation.

Hello sir. I share your boredom, but my family need to eat.

We are negotiating with NHTSA - I agree this sounds ridiculous, but NHTSA is being a bit silly on this one. We will try to do a customer mailing campaign rather than a safety recall.

Sorry.

I hope you are well my friend.

Best Regards,
Chris

Subject NHTSA investigation

Hello, how are you? Long time not to talk with you.

I am in the final year in this C&A Division, which I got bored already for so long time.

But, it is my job.

BTW, today I heard NHTSA started defect investigation on ES350 Rubber floor mat, which TMS sold as an accessory and my division is concerned.

Also, I heard TMS got excited and is talking about some customer campaign that I felt stupid, if design of this mat does not differ from others.

I believe you are involved, then I want you to talk TMS people and let them calm down, if you feel the same as I feel.
